

The Music Anthology of the FUTURE

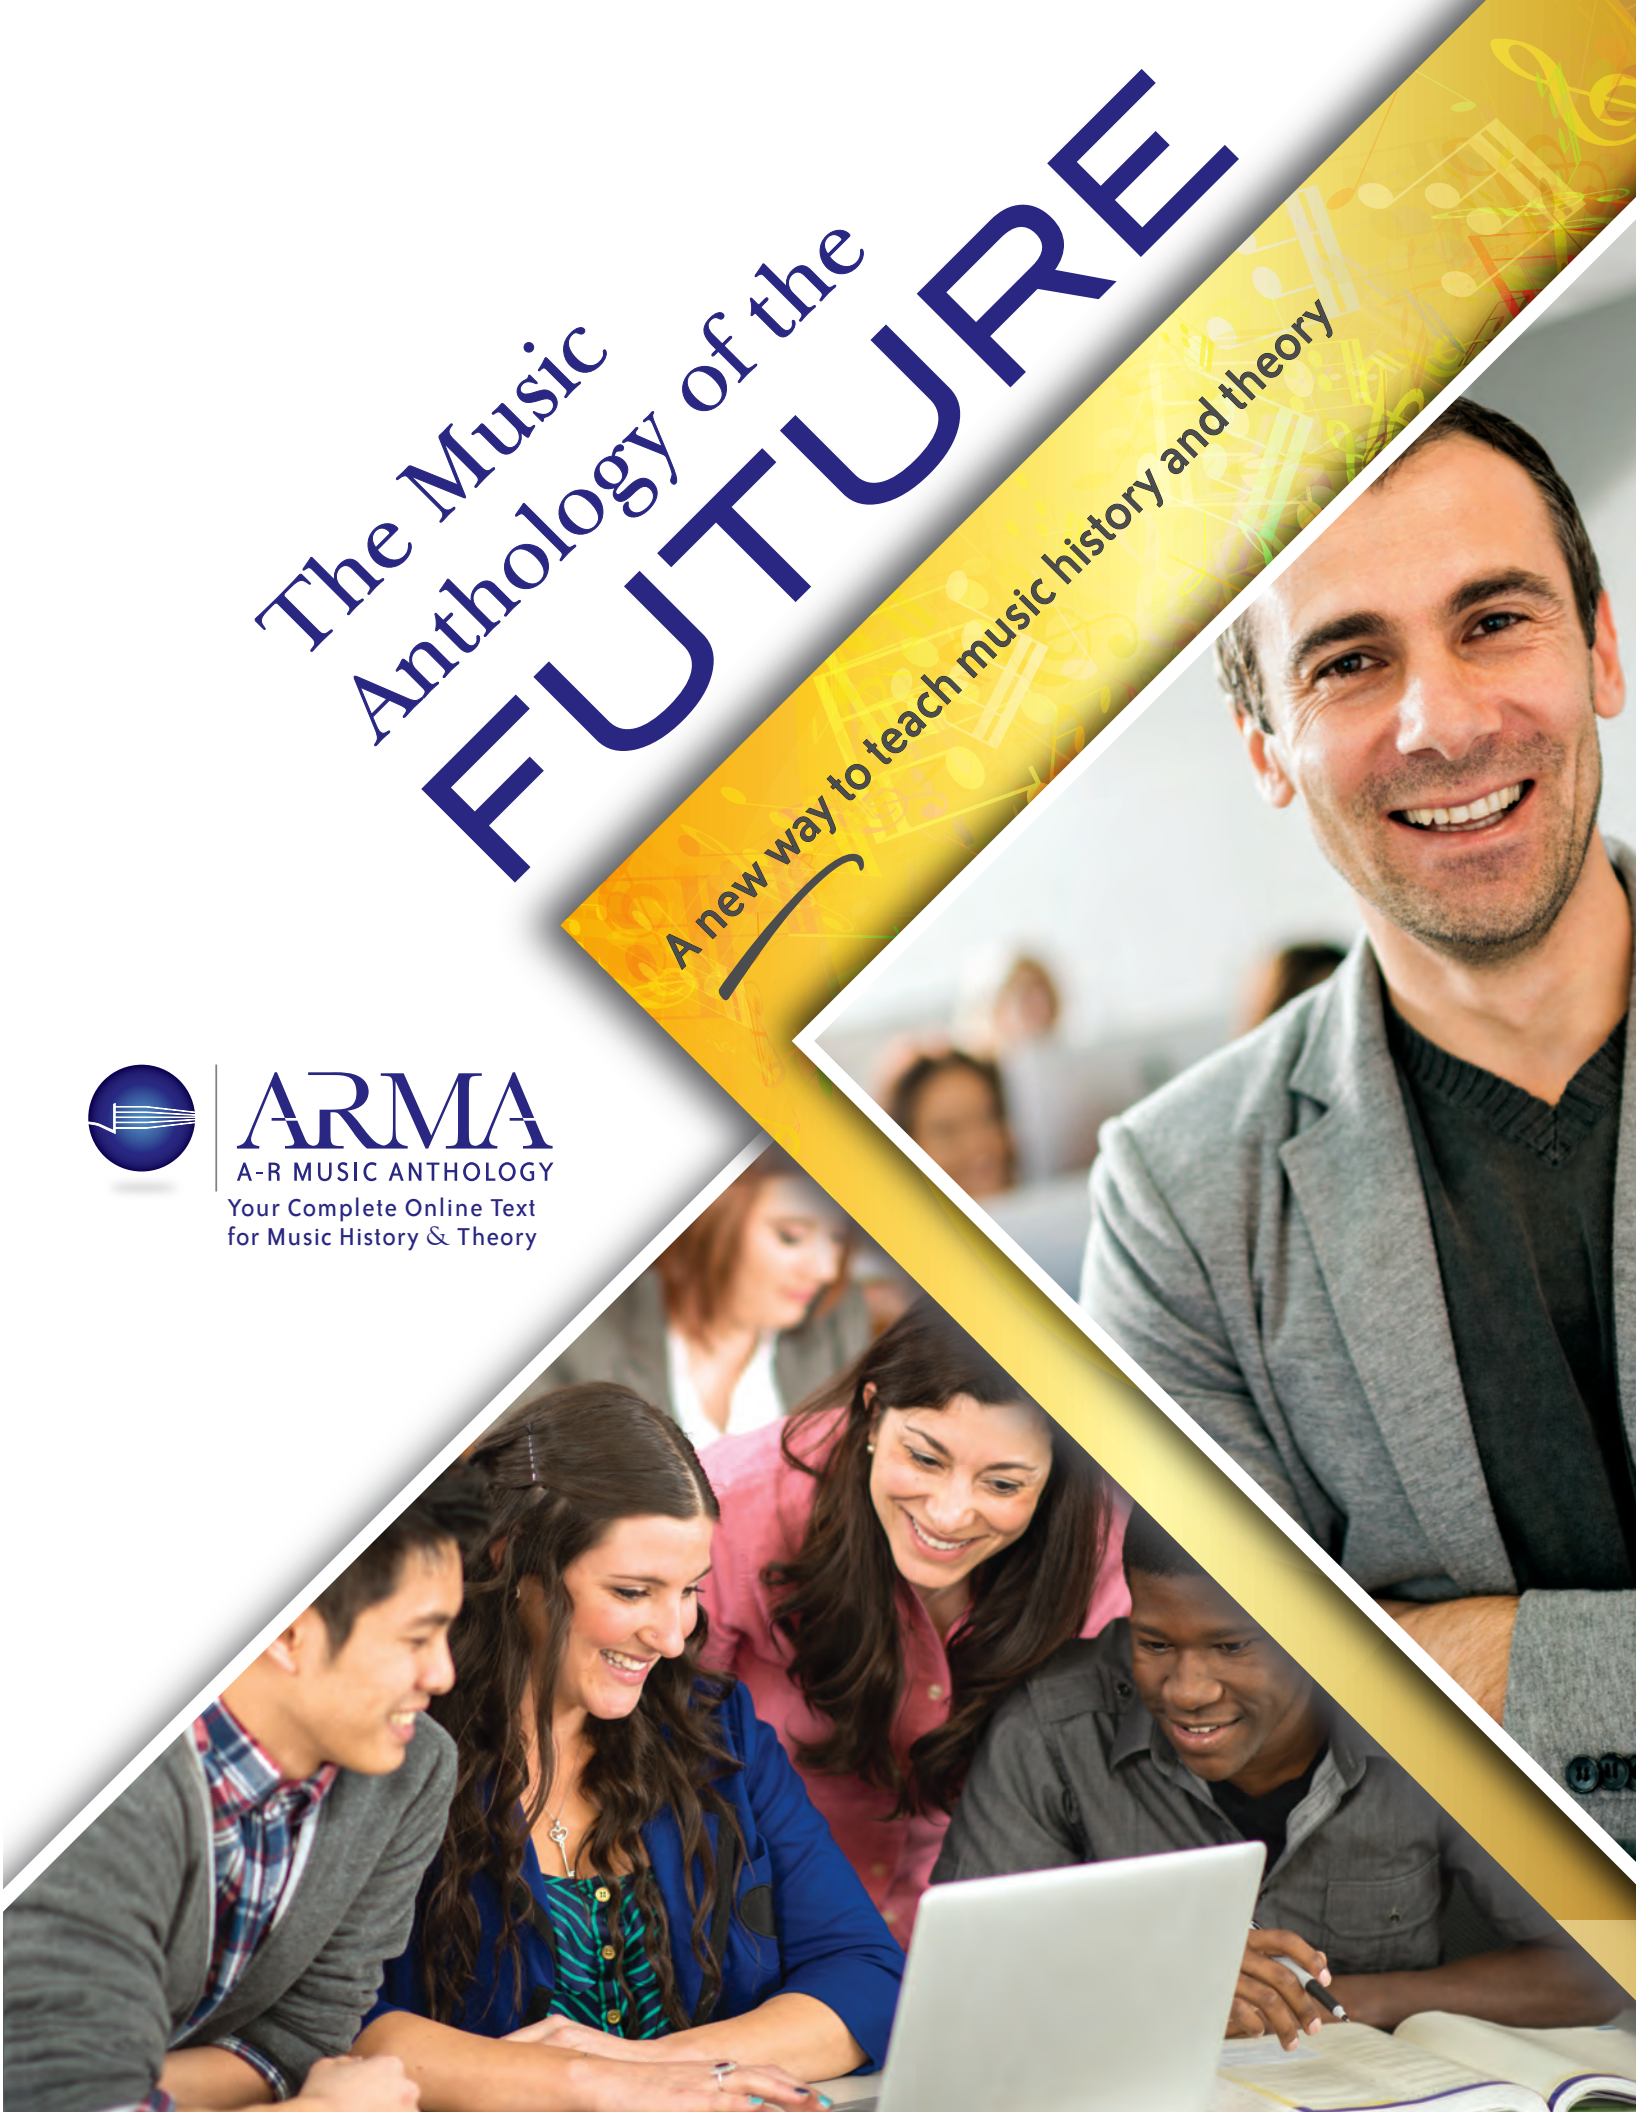

A new way to teach music history and theory

ARMA

A-R MUSIC ANTHOLOGY

Your Complete Online Text for Music History & Theory

The A-R Music Anthology is a new way to teach music history and theory

THE A-R EDITIONS' ONLINE MUSIC ANTHOLOGY IS AN EXTENSIVE COLLECTION of music and articles designed expressly for music history and theory courses. The A-R Music Anthology contains many more pieces of music than print anthologies, all newly engraved and affordably available by student subscription or library site license. A-R offers complimentary access to instructors. The Anthology supports a broad range of courses and instructors can customize the content in as many course packs as they need. With the multi-author online textbook and pre-set course packs, the A-R Music Anthology is a powerful tool for the twenty-first century.

Enthusiasm for the Anthology

"The A-R Online Music Anthology, with its vast array of music representing essential styles, genres, forms, procedures, and composers, is the music anthology of the future. Students will be able to make use of it for many different courses, and teachers will be able to vary their course content with ease from one semester to another."

—Michael Griffel
Music History Department Chair
The Juilliard School

"The A-R Online Music Anthology has proven to be a rich and nimble resource of score and textual content for our students and faculty. Scores are clean and precise, consistent with A-R's famously high editorial standards, and cover a wide swath of styles from ancient to contemporary. A further enhancement is the online textbook, with articles written by acknowledged scholars in clear and illuminating prose. Congratulations on this achievement."

—Kevin McLaughlin
Library Director
The Cleveland Institute of Music

Request a FREE Demo Today!

Call Jim at 608.203.2580 or email
anthology@areditions.com

Learn about the depth of content,
the ease of making course packs,
and the support materials
at your fingertips.

Why is the A-R Music Anthology a better way to teach?

- The A-R Music Anthology is a comprehensive resource that can be used in both music history and theory classes
- Easy to adopt by using our pre-set course pack or by building custom course packs tailored to students' needs
- Priced affordably:
 - Class Adoption: Instructors invite students to subscribe to their courses (students each pay $60 for six months use) OR
 - Site License: Libraries can establish a site license for an annual fee, with full access for students, faculty, staff, and patrons
- Available online anytime and anywhere
- More than 600 pieces of music (over 7000 pages) from antiquity to the twentieth century
- Hundreds more music choices than traditional print anthologies
- The A-R Music Anthology makes it easy to set up course lists and even easier to update them
- The peer-reviewed articles and commentaries are fresh and relevant
- Easily integrates with classroom software

Instructional videos for instructors are online.

More than 50 commentaries ready for you to use.

Editorial Board

- James P. Cassaro, University of Pittsburgh
- Jane Gottlieb, The Juilliard School
- L. Michael Griffel, The Juilliard School
- Emily Laurance, Case Western Reserve University
- Jonathan Rhodes Lee, University of Nevada, Las Vegas
- Mark McKnight, University of North Texas
- Neil Newton, University of California, Santa Barbara
- James Parsons, Missouri State University
- Jennifer Thomas, University of Florida
- Marian Wilson Kimber, University of Iowa
- James L. Zychowicz, Editor-in-Chief

Authors

- James Maiello, University of Manitoba
- Stephanie P. Schlagel, University of Cincinnati, College-Conservatory of Music
- Jonathan Rhodes Lee, University of Nevada, Las Vegas
- Robert Pearson, University of Texas, Arlington
- Joseph E. Jones, Texas A&M University, Kingsville
- Fiona McAlpine, University of Auckland
- Matthew Pilcher, Birmingham Conservatoire
- Karen M. Cook, University of Hartford
- Allen Scott, Oklahoma State University
- Kendra Preston Leonard, Independent Scholar
- Allan Atlas, Distinguished Professor Emeritus, The Graduate Center, CUNY
- Alice V. Clark, Loyola University, New Orleans
- Julian Rushton, University of Leeds
- Matteo Magarotto, University of Missouri, Kansas City
- And more!

Contributing Editors

GENRES & FORMS:

James P. Cassaro, University of Pittsburgh

MUSIC THEORY:

Neil Newton, University of California, Santa Barbara

SIGNIFICANT COMPOSERS:

Jonathan Rhodes Lee, University of Nevada, Las Vegas

COMMENTARIES:

Emily Laurance, Case Western Reserve University

MAJOR WORKS:

James L. Zychowicz, A-R Editions

ARMA
A-R MUSIC ANTHOLOGY

608.836.9000

800.736.0070 (toll-free in North America)

anthology@areditions.com

www.armusicanthology.com

1600 Aspen Commons, Suite 100
Middleton, WI 53562